Bursting Boilers Create Panic in an Immense Crowd.

(By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, VA., Murch 28.-The imnense five-story brick building occupied by the Farmers' and Manufacturers' Peanut Company, in Norfolk county, a short distance outside the city of Portsmouth, that caused a monetary loss of over $50,000 sand speciators when several large bollers in the burning building exploded and hurled large pleces of brick and steat through the air. So far as could be learned, no one was fatally injured, though Henry Bell, a negro, was struck on the head by a flying brick and seriously cut.

'The fire was discovered shortly after the hands had stopped work for the day, and there were no people in the factory except the watchman, John Sykes; Dennis Etheridge, the aged president of the company, and two other men.

One of the big things in Wall Street, New York, is the Broad Exchange Building. It is twenty-eight stories high and houses $8,000 brekers, bankers and corporation, officers. It has just come to light that the designer of every inch of the structural steel work from the foundation to the roof was a woman-Miss Marion S. Parker, a civil engineer. In addition to this Miss Parker has designed the steel work of the Astoria, had of the Waldorf Hotel. The Whitehal Building is another glant of lower Breadway, and a score of other big structures
